PROFILE
…BIG DATA…

My ideal job is working with data. For me, it's a creative process. When I lacked Excel's capabilities to solve problems, I started looking for something different... better... more perfect… I signed up for a DATA SCIENTIST course

I have already learned the Python programming language, SQL, and I know how to build models for forecasting. machine learning models (Artificial Intelligence), and much more. I feel like I'm becoming an expert at turning raw data into useful information for making strategic decisions.

 I had experience working with product directories (about 100,000 items). Sales analysis, top-100, product matrices, auto-order needs.
